

BIO for Linda Fensler, MS, CEAP

- Over twenty years of healthcare experience.
 - Helped to build a large EAP for the Adventist Health System. Administered the program, provided assessments, referrals and consultations for over 5,000 healthcare workers for over eight years, as the Regional Director for the Adventist Health System's Midwest Region.
-
- Twelve years as an Internal EAP for a large school district in the Chicago area.
 - Master of Science, from DePaul University (MS 1999)
Major: Rehabilitation Facility Administration
 - Bachelor of Liberal Arts, DePaul University (BA) 1996
 - Completed coursework in Sandler Sales Training in 2007
 - Nationally certified Employee Assistance Professional (CEAP)
(CEAP Certified from 1995 to present.)

Early in her career, Linda worked for a large Mental Health Center in Indiana, providing Vocational Counseling to Chronic Mentally Ill Individuals for six years.

From 2006 to 2008, Linda worked to promote small business ventures in Las Vegas, NV, working for the Henderson and the Las Vegas Chambers' of Commerce.

She wrote, developed and administered Internal EAP programs, throughout the Chicago area and in Northeastern Indiana. She assisted in the implementation of an Internal Employee Assistance Program for two high schools in the Chicago area. This program included a managed care and utilization review component.

As Owner of Corporate Counseling and Training, Linda facilitated Fitness for Duty Training for the Chicago Auto Trade Association; she provided wellness training to auto dealerships throughout the Chicagoland area.

Linda was contracted to provide EAP services to BP Oil, kicking off their Internal EAP at all corporate locations in the Chicago area.

CURRENT: In 2012, Linda formed a small Limited Liability Corporation: FLEXIBLE EA Services. She provides corporate consultations for troubled employees that are disrupting the workplace. She has written materials addressing violence in the workplace and anti-bullying programs. As owner, she accepted speaking engagements throughout the country. She mediated groups at New River Cover, in Belize, South America and provided training in Process Addictions in Cape Cod and Las Vegas, NV. She is currently contracting with Addiction Reach, in West Palm Beach, FL and Balancing Life's Issues, based in Ossining, New York. Linda enjoys domestic and international travel. She loves exercise and the benefits of inversion therapy. While studying at DePaul University, Linda completed coursework at Second City in Chicago studying under John Starr. She loves improvisational theater, dramatic theater and all forms of dance.